Being Brave: A Book About Being Afraid (Growing God's Kids)

Synopsis

Habits and attitudes developed in the preschool and kindergarten years affect a child for the rest of his or her life. These years are also a challenging time for parents as children test boundaries (and patience). How parents and children respond makes all the difference in the world. The Growing God's Kids series is designed to help young children understand their feelings, develop godly ways to deal with temptations, and form positive attitudes and behaviors that will serve them well in the future. In Being Brave, parents and children are encouraged to face their fears and approach new situations with courage.

Customer Reviews

Discover the value of trusting in God Sometimes Max gets scared. He's afraid of the dark, afraid the doctor will give him a shot, afraid of the unknown. Everyone gets scared sometimes. But God is always with us. He calms our fears through prayer and through the people around us who love us, as Max is about to find out . . . Come and learn a better way to handle fear--God's way! The Growing God's Kids series helps young children learn how to deal with emotions and behaviors that are part of growing up. I purchased this for my four year old who was scared of the dark. She learns well through stories and I wanted her to learn how to better trust through an example. The book is about a boy named Max. There is four short stories including scared of the dark, shots at the doctor's office, scared of storms, and moving to a new town. Overall, the book was good, it did leave me wanting more from it. It had something lacking perhaps because the stories were so short compared to the Bernstein Bears ones that she loves. It does include a "checkup" at the end.

I am sad to give this book a mediocre review as I bought it through kindle and could not read any of the words all I could see was the pictures and words in the middle of the book. I hope I can get this resolved.

Excellent
