Fu#@ing Seriously? (Real Stories From A Small-Town ER)

Synopsis

In this NOT SAFE FOR WORK edition of Real Stories from a Small-Town ER, registration clerk Kerry Hamm takes a stab at telling stories with bad language, dark humor, and cynical observations about work. In another condensed version of the series, we learn about forgotten sports, appendage amputations, suicide attempts, drunk and high patients, and you'll find yourself STILL asking why people do some of the things they do. If the dirty version isn't your cup of tea, don't fret! Swing on through Kerry's listings until you find the CLEAN version of this edition: 'Freakin' Seriously?'

Customer Reviews

Great content with snappy delivery that reminds us all we have those days.

This book was still crazy and fun to read even though they were other people's stories and not Kerry's. I read the one without many swear words and it was great.

Love Kerry's books

Kerry Hamm is a talented writer when it comes to medical humor. She had enough stories to fill several books, so if you like this one, there are plenty of others to choose from. I've read them all, and hope she keeps writing!

she makes me laugh

Love her books

Decent, but it needs editing, and I felt that I really paid more than I should have for the quality of writing I received.

Dear Kerry PLEASE don't hesitate to write another book like this! It does not make Kerry look like a "jerk", this is more accurate because it's how quite a few conversations go & will continue because some people have zero common sense (or courtesy). I try to keep specific words to a minimum or under my breath, but I am guilty of using some favorite yet unlady-like phrases.....Also unfortunately, people WILL flat line anywhere their bodies decide to shut off the nerves carrying instructions to the heart. They even flat line while inside CT & MRI scanners (if someone codes in a MRI, they are at more risk because some idiot will run in with metal equipment and it gets sucked into the M of MRI which stands for an insanely strong magnet. There is approved separate code equipment for this....YouTube it people.
