Homes (Picture This)

Synopsis

Homes are everywhere in nature. Discover many different kinds in these eye-catching photographs of animals in their natural habitats. From the silk thread spun by the weaver ant to the snowy den dug out by the polar bear, children will learn about where animals live and how they build or find their dwellings in our natural world. Perfect for very new and curious learners!Â

This book was not as big a hit with my 10-month-old granddaughter as Shapes or Numbers (the other 2 we have in this series). It seems to have too many birds and nests. She does seem to be fascinated with the pages showing the holes of sand martin nests in the side of a cliff. Perhaps when she is older it will resonate more. There are certainly pages with animal homes that she enjoys more than either the bird or the insect homes.

It is a very well done board book for kids. The photography is well done and the quality of the book is good. Pictures for kids should be excellent since this is how they learn to discriminate mundane vs excellent.

I bought this for my resident with dementia, it is now a favorite in our home. Great book, great condition, timely delivery.

Great book! There are so many pages; many more than I was expecting. The pictures are high quality and the text is short and sweet.
